SEVERED WIRE STORY IS DOUBTED.

Americans here, especially refugees from Mexico, are frankly skeptical both as to the reported battle and the cut wires. They point out that severed communications is one of the most familiar reses by Mexican officials when they wish to withhold information and that it is strange that the wires to Casas Grandes, a distance of only 130 miles, along a railroad could not be repaired in two days' time.

That General Pershing and some of his forces are close to Namiquipa seems reasonably certain an dif the bandits had received a serious check at the bands of the Carranza forces a clash between his followers and the Americans should be imminent. The fact that a Carranza victory would have been most apt to be heralded far and wide in report, add to the contention of the skeptics.

Whatever is the real situation Sierra Madre district where American Carranza and Villa forces are operating, the main interest here lies in the railroad situation. Even before the American government requested General Carranza to permit the use of Mexican railroads for the transportation of supplies, ominous rumors had reached here that General Funston was experiencing serious difficulty in forwarding supplies to General Per-shing's columns. The silence which for two days has enveloped the Mexican situation so far as any definite news of the pursuit of Francisco Villa is concerned, gave fresh force today to the numerous reports from various sources of grave disaffection among Carranza troops. On the border at least it is firmly believed that the soldiers of the first but continued. but continued:

"We condemn the protest in the most energetic manner against the eruption of the Yankees over into our territory: of the Yankees over into our territory; for although they mso consider Villa as a political personality and a national representative, they cannot in any manner consider his assault on Columbus, N. M., as an offense of one nation against another, and, on this account, the passage of American troops over the boundary line cannot have any justification and should be taken as an act of Violence, or if preferred, as an act of Wilsonian nervousness."

El Democrata added that "the good relations existing between the constitutionalist government and the white house should not be sundered and war declared until all the formalities if right which precede such declaration shall have been gone through."

NOT KNOWN WHAT
PERSHING IS DOING.

What progress General Pershing has reacher trenshing was received today but it dealts with affairs of last Monday, saying that it had been reported to him that Villa and the Carranza troops were engaged near Namiquipa. At that time a detachment of the seventh cavalry had reacher Cruces only a few miles north of Namiquipa and one of the aeroplanes sent out from Casas Grandes was then in communication with thet few manufactured the few ment have enabled the Germans to gain a foothold on the small hill of Haucourt which lies just outside the village of Malancourt and between that town and the eastern edge of the Malancourt wood.

The entire sector of about two and a half miles from the Avecourt wood to Malancourt has been subjected to a violent artillery bombardment and several German infantry attacks, but except in the immediate vicinity of the fight is developing to dislodge the Russians from trenches which they had previously completed. Respecting this operation, the Berlin communication says that at this point the Russians delivered their attack and their losses reached "extraordinarily high figures, even for the number of Malancourt has been subjected to a violent artillery bombardment and several German infantry attacks, but except in the immediate vicinity of the German trenches on the southwest-ern shore of Lake Narocz, where it is declared the fight is developing to dispersion to Fairer and somewhat colder, El Paso, March 22,-Macardo Herrera, brother of Luis Herrera, was arrested here tonight by Captain Hall of the city police. Captain Hall said he arrested Herrera after the Mexican had returned from a two hours' conference with General Gavira at Juarez. He refused to make any further statement in connection with the arrest.

force. It is admitted that General Carranza and some of his lieutenants are sincerely anxious to avoid friction with the United States, but it is not believed that the head of the de facto government represents the attitude or sentiments of his army or fellow citi-

From several different sources circumstantial report was received to-day that the garrison at Chihuahua, supposed to number 2,000 men, had re-volted and that their commander, Gen. Luis Herrera, had declared in favor of Villa. Andreas Garcia, the Carranza consul here, emphatically branded this report as false, but in high official circles here it was accepted as at least possible, in view of the fact that more than half of the Mexican troops at Chihuahua formerly were Villa follow-

Since yesterday morning Gavira at Juarez has claimed that the wires along the Mexican Northwestern railroad between Juarez and Casa: Grandes have been cut and that consequently he could give no information in regard to the reported battle at Namiquipa between the Carranza and Villa troops.

SEVERED WIRE STORY IS DOUBTED.

Americans here, especially refugees from Mexico, are frankly skeptical both as to the reported battle and the cut wires. They point out that severed communications is one of the most familiar rese by Mexican officials when they wish to withhold information and they wish to withhold information and that it is strange that the wires to Casas Grandes, a distance of only 130 miles, along a railroad could not be repaired in two days' time. That General Pershing and some of his forces are close to Namiquipa seems reasonably certain an dif the pandits had received a serious check at the bands of the Currenta forces clash between his followers and the Americans should be imminent. The fact that a Carranza victory would have been most apt to be heralded far and wide in report, add to the con-tention of the skeptics.

Whatever is the real situation in the Sierra Madre district where American, Carranza and Villa forces are operat ing, the main interest here lies in th railroad situation. Even before the American government requested Gen eral Carranza to permit the use of Mexican railroads for the transporta tion of supplies, ominous rumors had reached here that General was experiencing serious difficulty in forwarding supplies to General Per-shing's columns. These rumors have reached the stage now where they may be classed as definite information,

Yale Alumni Will Have Elaborate Plan

Plans were started yesterday to entertain the Texas Yale association when it holds its annual meeting in this city April 15. There are ten or fifteen graduates of Yale here, and this number will have charge of the arrangements. Definite word that the association would hold its meeting was included in a letter received yesterday by W. W. Naman from Royal W. Watkins of Dallas, president of the state association.

After the business session has been held the visitors will be tendered a luncheon and given an automobile ride over the city. CLEANLINESS A FORCE FOR GOOD.

Physicians and surgeons are fighting the battles of disease by disinfection and cleanliness. Towns, cities, states and nations are stressing cleanliness to decrease disease and death. Laws are being passed to compel people who would not otherwise do so to keep clean their premises where food is sold to the public. The Bible stresses cleanliness, both physical and moral.

In this battle against dirt and filth, which involves disease and death, the women are in the front ranks. Mrs. Edith W. Pierce of Philadelphia is street cleaning nurse. She has been a great factor in her home city in making the streets as clean as they should be. Her office is the only one of the kind in the world held by a woman, and she is making it a marked success. She has organized among the boys and girls of the city a Junior Street Cleaning League of 10,000 members, who are to look after the streets and report any dirt or filth they see that needs removing. Each member is given a button on which is printed "For Cleaner Philadelphia Streets," and each one has a book of instructions to guide him in his volunteer work. The women and the children are a most powerful influence for good when they are organized and they naturally turn to goodness and cleanliness. In order to secure efficiency in this volunteer service, the city is divided into units. Each unit elects a supervisor, so there is order and system. There are form report cards provided which are filled out and returned to headquarters, and action is taken accordingly. In this way Mrs. Pierce is enabled to keep up with the condition of the big city, as to garbage, tin cans, rubbish, improper drainage, etc., and can direct the forces under her care for those conditions systematically and thoroughly. This is an idea that could be used by any city to advantage. The energy and the loyalty of the women and the children are largely an idle force in most towns and cities because there is no one to organize and direct this force in proper channels. All cities could use such a system to their advantage in fighting the dirt and accumulation that naturally occur where there are a lot of prevent or minimize this carelessness.

Aeroplanes are being employed in earrying mail from Columbus, N. M., to General Pershing's troops on the trail of Villa.

Senator Culberson, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, announces he will support the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis for the supreme court. And in so doing he will have the approval of the vast majority of his constituents.

W. H. Sage, commanding the Twelfth infantry, U. S. A., at Nogales, Ariz., advises Gen. P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, Mex., that the lack of liquor along the border, as the result of the prohibition order issued by the Carranza authorities, has done more than anything else to allay exeitement, and this opinion is shared by the best men on the American side of the border, the commander writes.

The women of Marlin are in earnest about that chicken ordinance. They will march upon the city hall in force within a few days, armed with copies of the proposed ordinance ready for passage, and with their lunch baskets prepared to spend the whole day or get the ordinance passed. They evidently know not only what they want but why they want it and how to go after it in order to get it. I the filmsy excuses offered by man.

THE BOY SCOUT WORK.

Numerous worthy movements have been launched at various times but no organization has made a worthier bid for the enlistment of the boys of the nation than the Boy Scouts of America. Nonsectarian and non-political, it seeks to instil, by positive rather than negative methods, into the minds and hearts of the boys from twelve to twenty years of age, those principles that make for stronger, cleaner and more efficient boyhood and young manhood.

Each boy becoming a Scout pledges himself to do his duty to his country, and his God, to obey the Scout law, to help other people at all times, to do some good deed without hope of reward every day, and to keep himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight. If there is a finer program of conduct anywhere among organizations for boys we have failed to find it. According to the Scout law-and a boy who does not comply with the mandates of the law is dropped from the rolls-a Scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent. And surely there is need for emphasizing just these things in our midst today. In the rush of the in the political game, but the voters modern life we are prone to place undue premium | will know he is in the race before the upon getting along ourselves to the neglect of our duty to others. We sometimes forget to be courteous. In the multiplicity of things which occupy the youthful mind there is a tendency to overlook the stressing of such valuable traits as trustworthiness and loyalty. In the many things that press for consideration our wants are multiplied to the point where thrift has become a lost art with many and is becoming more and more so. And there is ever a need for stressing the virtues of bravery, cleanliness in body, mind and action, and reverence for God and holy things. Waco has made only a start, though a very good one, in the Scout movement. The good things which the movement contains should be passed on to many hundreds of other boys. But this can not be done without adequate support, and it is this support which will be sought in the campaign that will be launched next Monday. We bespeak for that special campaign and for the Boy Scout work generally the cordial support of the city at large.

THERE ARE MANY SUCH PICTURES.

To one who will raise his eyes and look, there are many exquisitely beautiful pictures given us by nature, far superior to anything the artist of merely human intelligence can depict with brush and pigment upon canvas. One of the most beautiful of nature's many beautiful pictures is a little child in a garden of roses trying to catch a butterfly as it flits from honied heart to honied heart of petaled glories. Many of you, who read this, have, no doubt, seen a picture, and a suggestion is all that is necessary to bring it back vividly to your mind. There is the little child, eyes gleaming like the stars as they peep in innocent wonder. cheeks aglow like the poppy flame, lips parted showing teeth as white as the shells swept up by the ocean's tumultuous swells, and the butterfly, alight on a red rose, bronzed and spotted or golden vellow, evading the grasp of the eager child, so light, so airy, so delicate that it seems but the ghost light, so airy, so delicate that it seems but the globs of a thing that was once real.

Isn't it a picture with a lesson that is good? Isn't it a picture with a lesson that is good? The child, whose heart is yet untouched by the smut and the smudge of worldly wickedness, the smut and the smudge of worldly wickedness, the smut and the smudge of God, and the butterroses, fresh from the garden of God, and the butterfly, innocent of harm, all three emblems of imfly, innocent of harm, all three emblems of imfly, innocent of harm, all three emblems of imfly in part referred and affirmed and in part referred and in part referred the hart in part referred and in part referred the hart in part referred and in part referred the hart in part referred and in part referred the in part referred the hart in part referred and in part r short while ago was but a hope underneath its mother's heart, the butterfly was merely a dull erysalis, and the flower but a swollen point on a rosebush stem. They were all coaxed by the divine power from their half-born condition to keep the world moving on toward the fulfillment of the great eternal plan and to bless and encourage stumbling mortals while on the way.

Bowie county, after trying prohibition for two years, has voted to retain it my a majority of two to one. This is as it should be.

Waco has a great future before her. It is not inreasonable to expect to see on the banks of the Brazos a city with more than a hundred thousand population in a few years.

CLEANLINESS A FORCE FOR GOOD.

Physicians and surgeons are fighting the battles of disease by disinfection and cleanliness. Towns, cities, states and nations are stressing cleanliness to decrease disease and death. Laws are being passed to compel people who would not otherwise do so to keep clean their premises where food is sold to the public. The Bible stresses cleanliness, both physical and moral.

In this battle against dirt and filth, which involves disease and death, the women are in the front ranks. Mrs. Edith W. Pierce of Philadelphia | The child, whose heart is yet untouched by the is street cleaning nurse. She has been a great smut and the smudge of worldly wickedness, the factor in her home city in making the streets as clean as they should be. Her office is the only one of the kind in the world held by a woman, and she is making it a marked success. She has organized among the boys and girls of the city a Junior Street Cleaning League of 10,000 members, who are to look after the streets and report any dirt or filth they see that needs removing. Each member is given a button on which is printed "For Cleaner Philadelphia Streets," and each one has a book of instructions to guide him in his volunteer work. The women and the children are a most powerful influence for good when they are organized and they naturally turn to goodness and

In order to secure efficiency in this volunteer service, the city is divided into units. Each unit elects a supervisor, so there is order and system. There are form report cards provided which are filled out and returned to headquarters, and action is taken accordingly. In this way Mrs. Pierce is enabled to keep up with the condition of the big city, as to garbage, tin cans, rubbish, improper drainage, etc., and can direct the forces under her care for those conditions systematically and thoroughly. This is an idea that could be used by any city to advantage. The energy and the loyalty of the women and the children are largely an idle force in most towns and cities because there is no one to organize and direct this force in proper channels. All cities could use such a system to their advantage in fighting the dirt and accumulation that naturally occur where there are a lot of eareless people, with no force to systematically prevent or minimize this carelessness.

Aeroplanes are being employed in earrying mail from Columbus, N. M., to General Pershing's troops on the trail of Villa.

Senator Culberson, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, announces he will support the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis for the supreme court. And in so doing he will have the approval of the vast majority of his constituents.

W. H. Sage, commanding the Twelfth infantry, U. S. A., at Nogales, Ariz., advises Gen. P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, Mex., that the lack of liquor along the border, as the result of the prohibition order issued by the Carranza authorities, has done more than anything else to allay excitement, and this opinion is shared by the best men on the American side of the border, the commander writes.

The women of Marlin are in earnest about that chicken ordinance. They will march upon the city hall in force within a few days, armed with copies of the proposed ordinance ready for passage, and with their lunch baskets prepared to spend the whole day or get the ordinance passed. They evidently know not only what they want but why they want it and how to go after it in order to get it.

THE BOY SCOUT WORK.

Numerous worthy movements have been launched at various times but no organization has made a worthier bid for the enlistment of the boys of the nation than the Boy Scouts of America. Nonsectarian and non-political, it seeks to instil, by positive rather than negative methods, into the minds and hearts of the boys from twelve to twenty years of age, those principles that make for stronger, cleaner and more efficient boyhood and young does not comply with the mandates of the law is dropped from the rolls-a Scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent. And surely there is need for emphasizing just these things in our midst today. In the rush of the modern life we are prone to place undue premium upon getting along ourselves to the neglect of our duty to others. We sometimes forget to be courteous. In the multiplicity of things which occupy the youthful mind there is a tendency to overlook the stressing of such valuable traits as trustworthiness and loyalty. In the many things that press for consideration our wants are multiplied to the point where thrift has become a lost art with many men of this country. and is becoming more and more so. And there is ever a need for stressing the virtues of bravery, cleanliness in body, mind and action, and reverence for God and holy things. Waeo has made only a start, though a very good one, in the Scout movement. The good things which the movement contains should be passed on to many hundreds of other boys. But this can not be done without adequate support, and it is this support which will be sought in the campaign that will be launched next Monday. We bespeak for that special campaign and for the Boy Scout work generally the cordial support of the city at large.

THERE ARE MANY SUCH PICTURES.

To one who will raise his eyes and look, there are many exquisitely beautiful pictures given us by nature, far superior to anything the artist of merely human intelligence can depict with brush and pigment upon canvas. One of the most beautiful of nature's many beautiful pictures is a little child in a garden of roses trying to catch a butterfly as it flits from honied heart to honied heart of petaled glories. Many of you, who read this, have, no doubt, seen a picture, and a suggestion is all that is necessary to bring it back vividly to your mind. There is the little child, eyes gleaming like the stars as they peep in innocent wonder, cheeks aglow like the poppy flame, lips parted showing teeth as white as the shells swept up by the ocean's tumultnous swells, and the butterfly, alight on a red rose, bronzed and spotted or golden yellow, evading the grasp of the eager child, so light, so airy, so delicate that it seems but the ghost of a thing that was once real. Isn't it a picture with a lesson that is good! roses, fresh from the garden of God, and the butterfly, innocent of harm, all three emblems of immortality, tokens of a divine love and compassion that passeth all understanding? The child but a short while ago was but a hope underneath its mother's heart, the butterfly was merely a dull rysalis, and the flower but a swollen point on a rosebush stem. They were all coaxed by the divine power from their half-born condition to keep the world moving on toward the fulfillment of forms and claims, we are still for the great eternal plan and to bless and encourage Brooks. He is the man Texas ought stumbling mortals while on the way.

Bowie county, after trying prohibition for two rears, has voted to retain it my a majority of two o one. This is as it should be.

Waco has a great future before her. It is not inreasonable to expect to see on the banks of the Brazos a city with more than a hundred thousand population in a few years.

They say they have Villa in a net, but that wily fellow has been wallowing in the slime so long that ne's become so slick he'll slide out of the net before they know it if General Pershing and his men don't

J. A. Harris of Wagoner, and J. J. McGraw of Ponca City, have expended $25,000 each in their race for republican national committeeman from Oklahoma. No salary is attached to the position, but a lot of expense. In a season when the demoerats occupy the seats at the pie counter this looks like a foolish extravagance. But if the candidates have the money to spare, it is no affair of ours.

Here's hoping that Thomas Taggart, new demoeratic senator from Indiana, the successor to the late Benjamin F. Shiveley, will exceed the expectations of his friends and disappoint the hopes of his enemies. He has his faults, but a man who can remain the boss of a party in a great state for fortyfive years evidently has something in him that is Fourteen women and girls of San Antonio have volunteered their services as Red Cross nurses for duty in Mexico and along the border in connection with the punitive expedition against Villa. You can always depend upon the women responding to the call of their country or their community whenever that call is sounded and they frequently anticipate the call.

We are much more wiling to trust the good women of this nation with the ballot than the class that have it now. The truth is, some men should not have the ballot and maybe some women do not deserve it, but it is not because they are women. Women have as much intelligence as men, and they have a great deal more natural goodness. Suffrage can not be put off because of the filmsy excuses offered by man.

COUNTRY SUPREME

CAPT. R. P. HOBSON, SPANISH WAR HERO, STRONG ON PREPAREDNESS.

WANTS THE GREATEST NAVY

Thinks American Is Called on to Develop a Great Naval Bulwark in Behalf of Peace.

"It is very gratifying to me to find wherever I go such a united support of the policy of preparedness for national defense," declared Capt. Richnond P. Hobson of Alabama, former member of congress, last night, folowing his temperance address at the First Baptist church. "I want to see in the Atlantic ocean a United States naval equipment superior to that of Germany, and in the Pacific ocean a naval outfit superior to that of Japan. Combined, they would be superior to that of Great Britain and thus give to the United States the largest and best navy in the world. There would be absolutely no danger of foreign invasion under such an arrangement, we would be ammune from attack by a foreign power, and could rest secure without ourdening ourselves with the expense of a large standing army.

"Then and not until then, perhaps, could we really enforce the provisions or policies of the Monroe Doctrine, an obligation that we cannot shift. Standing armies are burdensome. More that hat, they have a tendency to create a pirit of militarism that is altogether hurtful. But an ample navy can procure the results we need without s great cost and without the other ob jections that accompany a large standing army. Of course I am in favor of increasing considerably the present strength of the standing army, doubling or possibly trebling it. I would reduce the term of enlistment in the army to one year, thus increasing rapidly the organized reserve, establish a council of national defense and provide. ections that accompany a large stand-

Peace can never come among the citizens of a country until its peaceable, lawabiding citizens organize power suffi-eient to put the lawless and outlaws under restraint. It was only then that business could be developed upon a substantial basis.

ADEQUATE NAVL TO STRENGTHEN MONROE DOCTRINE "If America had an adequate navy the Monroe Doctrine would be a real ity, as would the open door policy, which would insure respect for the rights of the weak in two-thirds of all the world and guarantee fair competition and me force between ion and no favor between nations eeking the world's wealth and comerce. compete with individual nations like America, and their armaments, prov-ing more and more unpopular, they would follow America's leadership to develop an international government by changing The Hague conference into a parliament, The Hague court into a judiciary and finally by pooling armaments when required, developing in international executive. This international government then in time ernational government then in time would become competent to protect the individual nations in their rights and vital interests and to settle their differences by regular recourse to jus-tice under the law. Then and then only could we expect the individual ations to give up voluntarily their

INSISTS INCREASE OF NAVY IS FOR PEACE. "In substance, America is called upon

to develop a great navy in the interest of the progress of peace in the world as well as our own defense. If we have a great fleet in the Atlantic and Pacific not a transport could set sail from Europe or Asia, no matter how big the world's army might be, and then our citizens could live in peace and security without purping our population. and security, without turning our population into a vast army. On the other hand, if we fail to prepare an adequate navy, then the oceans have become avenues for reaching us and destroying our means of defense. On the Waco Speakers' Club

Bisurated Magnesia Sweetens Sour A Stomach and Stops All Distress in Five Minutes.

People who have acid indigestion, seem to find most everything they eat disagrees with them and are troubled with sour or burning sensation and formation of gas in stomach. They should drop digestive aids and get from their druggist a few ounces of ordinary pure Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This would promptly neutralize the excess acid, sweeten the stomach contents and their food would digest properly and painlessly. Its great to forget all about indigestion, to be able to eat big meals and enjoy them and never a pain to follow. Yet a lot of long faced folks who suffer from stomach trouble continually and have to say, "no thank you" to most every thing on the trouble continually and have to say, "no thank you" to most every thing on the table can get healthy digestion easily and quickly by using Eisurated Magnesia to sweeten their acid stomachs. For correcting stomach acidity do not take Magnesia in any form but Bisurated.

More than that, they have a tendence to contain spirit of militarism that is altogether spirit of militarism that is altogether hurtful. But an ample navy can procure the results we need without so great cost and without the other objections that accompany a large standing army. Of course I am in favor of increasing considerably the present strength of the standing army, doubling or possibly trebling it. I would reduce the term of enlistment in the army to one year, thus increasing rap-more strongly upon America to be the exponent of the principles which alone can bring peace by arbitration. Peace can never come among the citizens of country until its peaceable, lawbiding citizens organize power suffi-ient to put the lawless and outlaws inder restraint. It was only then that ubstantial basis.

ADEQUATE NAVL TO STRENGTHEN MONROE DOCTRINE

"If America had an adequate navy the Monroe Doctrine would be a reality, as would the open door policy, which would insure respect for the rights of the weak in two-thirds of all the world and guarantee fair competition and no favor between nations seeking the world's wealth and commerce. Then the nation would be on a basis to develop amity and good will and the military would not feel a han. "If America had an adequate nav the military would not feel a han.

World nations could not ultimately mpete with individual nations like America, and their armaments, provng more and more unpopular, they rould follow America's leadership to develop an international government by changing The Hague conference into a parliament, The Hague court into a judiciary and finally by pooling armaments when required, developing in international executive. This inrnational government then in time would become competent to protect individual nations in their rights and vital interests and to settle their lifferences by regular recourse to justice under the law. Then and then nations to give up voluntarily their

OF NAVY IS FOR PEACE.

In substance, America is called upon or develop a great navy in the interest of the progress of peace in the world as well as our own defense. If we have a great fleet in the Atlantic and Pacific not a transport could set sail from Europe or Asia, no matter how big the world's army might be, and then our citizens could live in peace and security, without turning our pop-ulation into a vast army. On the other hand, if we fall to prepare an ade-quate pays, then the oceans have beuate navy, then the oceans have be ome avenues for reaching us and de stroying our means of defense. On the Atlantic our principal cities would tend and the club is always open to some day be captured without serious resistance and levy made upon nearly The program for Thursday, March half the wealth of the nation. Unfinished Dresses and Suit Are Stolen

Detectives have been unable to locate the thief who took two unfinished dresses and a suit of clothes from the home of Mrs. Hicks. 824 Taylor street. The clothing was secured Tuesday night when the house was entered in the absence of the family. One of the dresses was a silk one and expensive. The combination feminine and men's clothing has convinced the detectives that the prowler must either sell or give away one or the other—since the chances are he cannot make personal use of both. Officer R. H. Hall is handling the case.

TAKE MAGNESIA AFTER MEALS TO

Bisurated Magnesia Sweetens Sour A Stomach and Stops All Distress in Five Minutes.

People who have acid indigestion, seem to find most everything they eat disagrees with them and are troubled with sour or burning sensation and formation of gas in stomach. They should drop digestive aids and get from their druggist a few ounces of ordinary pure Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This would promptly neutralize the excess acid, sweeten the stomach contents and their food would digest properly and painlessly. Its great to forget all about indigestion, to be able to eat big meals and enjoy them and never a pain to follow. Yet a lot of long faced folks who suffer from stomach trouble continually and have to say, "no thank you" to most every thing on the table can get healthy digestion easily and quickly by using Bisurated Magnesia to sweeten their acid stomachs. For correcting estomach acidity do not take Magnesia in any form but Bisurated.

New York, N. Y.—In a recent discourse
Dr. E. Sauer, Specialist, of this city, said:
"If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue, and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get any strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down, and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night; others are sleepy and tired all day; some fursy and lived they name developed in the proper form of the proper form, and this, after they had other troubles in from ten to four-strength and see for yourself how much you have gained. Most thin people stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay there in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

A human system is clogged and slowed down by constipation, which causes a tremendous loss of mental and physical energy.

The remedy in the case of the watch is a fine grade of machine oil. And the remedy for constipation, according to the latest conclusions of medical science, is an even finer lubricant—Nujol—the pure white mineral oil.

Nujol lubricates the intestinal tract throughout its entire length, and softens the intestinal contents. In this way it facilitates the processes of normal evacuation, and eventually makes possible the return of regular bowel movements.

Nujol is not a laxative-drug nor a bowel stimulant. It is not absorbed by the system, hence it may be taken in any quantity without harm. It does not act as a purge, but if used regularly will bring permanent relief from constipation in the course of a week or ten days.

Write for booklet, "The Rational Treatment of Constipation." If your druggist hasn't it, we will send a pint bottle of Nujol prepaid to any point in the United States on receipt of 75c-money order or stamps.

Coyle sacrificed him on to third. Conwell was safe when Merkle took his grounder and whizzed it to Rariden, Bittle being run down in an exciting hase after being almost to the plate. Giant slip would have meant a score, but nothing doing. Conwell took second on a wild pitch. Jesse James lined a beauty out into left field and Conwell made a dash for home but was caught at the plate for the third out.

In the fifth Merkle put the ball out of the park over the left field fence, the next three going out in order.

Jeff Tesrau, the hero of many a big league battle, then took the mound. That was just what Waco was waiting for. Relly kept lookin' 'em over and drew four wide ones. Big Jeff placed one just where Hill likes 'em best and tlittle pitcher sent it clear over the right field fence. Neither Reilly or Hill displayed much ability as foot-racers as a consequence, but they both managed to drag their averdupois around. But Waco couldn't score any more. With two down in the eighth, Naylor, who had relieved Hill. tripled to deep centar, causing Benny Kauff to nearly run his fat, little legs off, but Bittle was unable to bring him in.

When New York came to bat in the sixth, the score was tied, two and two. Tesrau shot a hot fly to James. And Jesse dropped it. Burns forced him at second and stole that base a little later when Reilly overthrew the bag. Doyle fanned but Lobert sent Burns in with a single to right, only to be caught stealing a second or so later. Naylor didn't allow a hit in the two innings he pitched.

Owls Drop Second Game to Longhorns

Special to the Morning News. Austin, Tex., March 22,-Texas won the second straight game from the Rice Owls on Clark field this afternoon, 8 to 6 after a long drawn out process of pitcher changing on the part of the Long-

Freshman Carmichael started the game for the Texans. He was in splendid form and retired the first three batters, by the strike-out route. The following inning he had little trouble in disposing of his opponents, but during the third he became a little uneasy and allowed the Owis to annex a counter. The youngster was taken out while at the time his teammates had been scoring consistently on the Houstonians. Sellars Thomas followed him and pitched good ball for his first appearance in the family as a college pitcher, but he, like his predecessor, was taken out in order to give Williams a trial at the box. form and retired the first three batters,

HIPPODROME.

"The Moral Fabric,"

It is a matter of note that the motion picture patron is becoming more and more to relish philosophy as spice for his entertainment. And a play for his entertainment. And a play that may be taken as a sign-post of advance in this sort of feature is the new Kay-Bee picture. "The Moral Fabric," which is showing at the Hippodrome. The play is built about three main characters, and the action follows the story rather than the story being gathered from the action, but masterly portrayal of the money driven husband in "The Golden Claw." handles the role of Scott Winthrop with a perfect understanding of his part and with a splendid dignity. Edith admirable role in a most admirable way, and Howard Hickman is theroughly convincing as the leader of the Invictus club, the idler, the man about

The play deals with the subject of "free love" and the tenets of the apos-tles of new thought to the effect that one may with perfect right throw aside the cloak of conventions and go the way their heart dictates, and that by defying the laws one proves himself ing an indulged wife with no atom of Italy; and a torpedo boat plungnis responsibility, is led to investigate the through a stormy sea. and beid the throne of Ruritania for the helpless prisoner of Zenda, and King Rudolf V has forgotten that he owes both his life and his crown to the Englishman. Rudolf V is full of jealous suspicions of his queen, the beautiful Flavia, because of her known love for Rassendyll.

Flavia sends a letter of final dissolution of their love to Rassendyll. This falls into the hands of Bauer, a spy of Rupert of Hentzau, who uses it as a lever for obtaining a pardon from the Rupert of Hentzau, who uses it as a lever for obtaining a pardon from the king for his share in the Black Michael conspiracy. conspiracy. A copy of this letter is sent to the king, and Rupert retains the original.

When the Englishman hears of the stolen letters he telegraphs to Lieutenant Sapt that no one must see the king. Then fearing for Flavia he sets out himself for Zenda. A telegram is sent to Rupert telling him to meet the king at the hunting lodge in the forest that night at 10 with the original letsent to Rupert telling him to meet the king at the hunting lodge in the forest that night at 10 with the original letter. The Englishman intends to keep the appointment himself in person and make an end of Rupert of Hentzau. But the plan miscarries.

Rupert comes to the lodge at the appointed hour, and is surprised at the nanner of his reception, the king and lightly reception, the king and lightly reception. appointed hour, and is surprised at the manner of his reception, the king and his solitary servant seizing their arms in utter consternation at the sight of this young outlaw. As Rudolf V will not listen to his story or take the casket he proffers, Rupert tosses it at him contemptuously and kills the faithful attendant who had sprung forward to avenge his insolence.

The king, now certain that his old enemy has come to assassinate him, fires and misses. Rupert retallates with a fatal shot. By an accidental fire at the lodge that night both corpses were burned beyond recognition.

Rassendyll will not wait to consider anything until the letter in Rupert's possession is destroyed. They meet, swords are drawn, and Rupert of Hentzau comes to his death. Flavia meets the man she loves and learns that her letter is burned and her honor safe.
Old Sapt arrives, and tells them of the destruction of the hunting lodge, and insists that it is Mr. Rassendyll's body which has been burned beyond recognition.

Rassendyll passes himself off as the king, and that night the spy Bauer creeps into the garden to avenge his master's death. Fate decided the great question, for Rassendyll falls mortally wounded by the traitor's bullet. wounded by the traitor's bullet. Flavia's dream came true, when Ru dolf Rassendyll's body lies in state in the great cathedral while all Streslau and the black-robed queen mourn for their murdered king.

A New Use for This Word

The New Post Toasties are truly entitled to the word "delicious."

They're distinguished by the tiny bubbles found on each flake and they carry the full, rich flavour of choice, white Indian corn-not found in corn flakes of the past.

And unlike common corn flakes, they are not "chaffy" in the package and don't grow mushy in milk or cream.

Note carefully the tiny bubbles—then try a handful dry to test the flavour. In comparison, other corn flakes are as "chaff."
